ARE IN THE PUBLIC EYE

PROMINENT MISSOURIANS IN YEARS PAST STUDENTS AT THE M. S. U.

IT TURNED OUT SOME BRAINY MEN

Senator W. J. Stone Studied There, But Ill Health Caused Him to Retire—Messrs. Cowherd, Anderson and Others.

It is a striking index of the part the State University is playing in the development of Missouri that the long list of candidates for nomination to office at the August primaries, on both the republican and democratic tickets, contains the names of many who secured their education in this greatest of our public schools.

Former Congressman Cowherd, of Kansas City, was five years a Missouri student. This was during the administration of Governor Crittenden. Mr. Cowherd and Governor Crittenden's son were college chums and frequently during his school career the present aspirant for gubernatorial honors was a visitor at the executive mansion in Jefferson City. Mr. Cowherd graduated twenty-six years ago.

Senator Ben M. Anderson, candidate for the democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, was a student in the seventies. Evidently he recalled in after life the struggle he made for an education while at school, for it was he who, while a member of the upper house of the Missouri legislature, introduced and secured the passage of a bill providing for free tuition at the State University. Nothing has done so much to open the door of opportunity to the poor boys and girls of Missouri as the passage of that bill. Since it became a law the university enrollment has increased from less than 1,000 to more than 2,500.

Both of the democratic candidates for the supreme bench, Judge W. W. Graves and Judge Nat M. Shelton, are also for students. Each of the two republican candidates for the office of attorney general, N. T. Gentry, of Columbia, and Frank T. Fulkerson, of St. Joseph, is a university graduate.

Hon. Jacob F. Gmelch, republican candidate for lieutenant governor, is a former curator. The present lieutenant governor, Hon. John C. McKinley, republican candidate for the United States senate, graduated in 1886.

Senator William J. Stone was a student in the seventies. Ill health compelled him to give up his studies before he graduated, although he stayed until threatened with dangerous illness. It is related of him that he frequently took large quantities of salt to his attic room which he used to stop the flow of blood from repeated hemorrhages as he poured over his books at night.

CANDIDATES IN "FIELD"

WHO WILL BE NOMINATED BY W. R. HEARST AND HIS PARTY IN CHICAGO:

SURELY IS NO LACK OF "TIMBER"

Some of It May Be Dwarfed and Runty, but It Passes for "Timber" With the Independence Party, Just the Same.

Chicago, July 28.—With nearly a dozen active candidates for the presidential nomination in the field, the independence party convention will resume its sessions this afternoon, and before midnight, according to plans, will have made a choice of its standard bearers, adopted a platform and concluded its business.

This morning the state delegations held meetings to elect new national committeemen and chairmen of delegations and to agree as to planks in the platform to be supported and candidates for president and vice president.

The program for this afternoon is as follows:

2:00 p. m.—Report of committee on permanent organization.
2:05 p. m.—Election of permanent chairman of convention.
2:10 p. m.—Speech of permanent chairman.

3:00 p. m.—Election of other permanent officers.

3:05 p. m.—Report of committee on credentials.

3:10 p. m.—Report of committee on rules.

3:15 p. m.—Report of committee on resolutions and platform.

3:30 p. m.—Discussion of platform to be adopted.

6:00 p. m.—Recess.

8:00 p. m.—Selection of new national committee.

8:15 p. m.—Nomination of party's first candidate for president.

11:00 p. m.—Nomination of vice president.

11:30 p. m.—Appointment of notification and other committees.

Although many delegations have joined in the demand that William Randolph Hearst accept the presidential nomination, he is apparently determined that the honor go elsewhere, and his wishes will probably be respected. Among those mentioned for first place on the ticket is Thomas L. Higen, of Massachusetts; John Temple Graves, of Georgia; Howard S. Taylor, of Illinois; Hon. Charles A. Walsh, of Iowa, secretary of the national committee of the new party; M. W. Howard, of Alabama; Reuben Noble Lyon, of New York; Charles S. F. Neal, of Indiana, and Hugh McIsaacs, of California.

Mr. Higen is also averse to accepting the nomination, but his supporters are persistent, and his name will probably go before the convention.

Mr. Higen was the first nominee of the independence party for governor of Massachusetts, last year, and as a result of an active campaign he polled 6,000 more votes for governor than the regular democratic nominee for the office. He is known throughout New England as "Honest Tom" Higen.

This title came to Mr. Higen as a result of a long and successful fight against the Standard Oil trust. Mr. Higen, with his brothers, controlled an independent oil plant and were successful. The oil trust undertook to drive them out of business, and Mr. Higen led the fight. "Sell out to us or get out of business," was the ultimatum of the trust. Higen refused to do either, and although forced into an expensive fight, his company is still in business.

Mr. Higen and three brothers composed the independent company. Their cars were sidetracked by the railroads of New England and delayed for weeks, their plants burned under suspicious circumstances, and prices were cut by the trust to the point where every gallon of oil sold meant a loss. The Higenes originally were manufacturers of axle grease, but were forced into the oil business because the trust refused to allow dealers who handled their axle grease to sell petroleum, which the trust controlled.

John Temple Graves, of Georgia, now employed as editor on one of Mr. Hearst's New York papers, is also being pushed to the front by his admirers in both the south and the east. He is the principal orator of the new party, as well as being a brilliant writer.

Mr. Graves has won the support of thousands of voters throughout the south who desire to see him nominated as the first candidate of the new party. Since he became connected with the independence party his services as a speaker have been in constant demand at state and local conventions of the party.

Milford W. Howard, of Ft. Payne, Ala., national committeeman of the league from that state, is another active candidate. Mr. Howard has long been an active opponent of the old democratic machine in that state, and was twice elected as a representative in congress from that district. In his first campaign he polled 3,400 more votes in the Seventh district than his democratic opponent. He received 6,838 votes to 3,452 for W. H. Dawson.

Charles A. Walsh, of Ottumwa, Ia., secretary of the independence party national committee, is another aspirant. His friends have made an active canvass to bring about his nomination as the candidate for president. Mr. Walsh is one of the most widely known political leaders of the middle west, northwest and southwest.

Howard S. Taylor, of Chicago, has the support of the delegates from Illinois, and may have the support of Michigan and Ohio on the first ballot. Mr. Taylor was one of the most successful prosecuting attorneys of Cook county, in which Chicago is located. In addition, he is a poet and is the author of the famous poem, "What Would Lincoln Say?" He was born in Staunton, Va. While a child his parents decided that the opportunities of the west contained greater promise of success and migrated to Chicago.

Reuben Robie Lyon, of Steuben county, New York, will have the united support of the seventy-eight delegates from that state. They have determined to present Mr. Lyon's name to the convention. Mr. Lyon was the nominee of the independence party for associate justice of the court of appeals of his state last fall. As a candidate against Justice Bartlett, who was nominated by both the republican and democratic machines of New York, in order to prevent a straight three-cornered fight, Mr. Lyon polled more than 120,000 votes.

Charles S. F. Neal was born Aug. 24, 1858, at Lebanon, Ind. His father was a native of Virginia and emigrated to Indiana via Kentucky in the early '40s. Mr. Neal was educated and taught in the common public schools. He has engaged in commercial lines, clothing, shoes and general merchandise, and has been connected with a number of business and financial institutions in his home city.

Mr. Neal was one of the active workers for W. R. Hearst in Indiana in 1904. His residence is at Lebanon, but his business address and headquarters are at Chicago.

The trustees of George R. Smith College, of this city, have recommended to the Fredmen's Aid association the appointment as president of the school, to succeed Dr. I. L. Lowe, resigned, of Prof. A. C. Maclin, A. M., with Prof. H. L. Billups, B. S., as associate president.

ENGLAND'S PATENT LAW

AFFECTS AMERICANS AND GERMAN MORE THAN OTHER COUNTRIES.

ADOPT RETALIATORY MEASURES

Requires Foreigners Who Obtain Patents From British Government to Make Goods on British Soil.

London, July 28.—Many American and German manufacturers are hard hit by the new British patent law, which became fully effective today.

The law requires foreigners who obtain patents from the British government to manufacture their goods on British soil.

As a result of the act, many German and American firms are either opening factories in Great Britain or are overcoming the difficulty by means of royalty agreements with British manufacturers.

The law is fitting the Germans so hard that the union of industrialists is now petitioning the German government to adopt retaliatory measures.

Several English authorities are convinced that the law will confer greater commercial and industrial benefits on Great Britain than any law that has been passed in the last half century.

It has already resulted in the employment of many thousand British work people, and the introduction of an enormous amount of capital from foreign countries.

It appears not improbable that the recent prophecy of Sir Alfred Jones to the effect that the new law will cause the investment of $125,000,000 of foreign—largely German—capital in manufacture in this country will be fully realized.

Already a large number of foreign firms have secured factory sites. Over 20,000 British patents have been granted to foreigners within the last three years, and not one of the processes for which the patents were taken out has been carried on to any great extent in the United Kingdom.

Toronto, Ont. July 28.—Great Britain's new patent law, which becomes operative today, will hamper the activities of many Canadian manufacturing concerns which have heretofore exported goods to the mother country.

The new regulations, although primarily directed against the manufacturers of Germany and the United States, will operate with the same force against Canada. It is believed, however, that the Canadian companies can satisfy the requirements of the law by opening British factories with only a nominal output.

VALUE OF EDUCATION

Here's Something for Consideration of Sedalia Boys.

The value of a thorough education, fitting a young man for his life work is no longer a debatable question. The recent report of the United States Bureau of Education shows that a boy with a common school education has practically one chance in 9,000 of general recognition as a successful man in some department of human endeavor and usefulness.

A high school education increases his chances of such success by about twenty-two times, while a college education gives a young man about ten times the probability of success and advancement possessed by the high school graduate, or about two hundred times the opportunity open to a boy with only a common school education.

Startles Fellow Members of Maryville Baptist Church.

Maryville, Mo., July 28.—Members of the First Baptist church of this city gasped Sunday forenoon when Dr. Homer M. Cook, president of the Northwest State Normal School, and former pastor of that church, strode down the aisle, clad in an immaculate

Dr. Cook remained during the entire service minus his coat while people craned their necks to see him. At the close of the service he pronounced the benediction. His two young sons, who accompanied him, were likewise coatless.

Mrs. M. Z. Holt, of 514 East Broadway, Sedalia, Mo., says: "My husband thinks there is no remedy equal to Doan's Kidney Pills. He suffered greatly from pains in his back, so severe at times that it was hard for him to do anything. When the secretions from the kidneys were allowed to stand for a time a reddish sediment would settle and at night their passage was much too frequent. The use of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills restored his health. I have not heard him complain of backache or other symptoms of his old trouble since using them. Only a few days ago I heard him advise a friend to procure Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. E. Bard Drug Co., and give them a trial."

S.S.S. CONTAINS NO MERCURY

Medicines containing Mercury are often given to persons suffering with Contagious Blood Poison, and so powerful is the action of this drug that it frequently removes the symptoms in a short while, and shuts the disease up in the system to do greater damage to the delicate internal members. When, however, the treatment is left off, the disease always returns, and the patient finds that his health has been injured by this powerful mineral, and he is often left with weak stomach, disturbed digestion, mercurial rheumatism, etc. The action of S. S. S. is entirely different. It contains no Mercury, nor any other harmful drug, but is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots and herbs. It cures Contagious Blood Poison by removing the virus from the blood. It searches out every particle of the poison and does not leave the least trace for future outbreaks. S. S. S. in addition to curing the disease, builds up and strengthens every part of the body. Its tonic effects tone up the stomach and digestion, improve the appetite and regulate the entire system. Home treatment book containing valuable information about the different stages of the disease and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

"UNCLE JIMMIE" IS 72

But He Gets Around as Spry as a Man of Fifty Years.

Beaman, Mo., July 27.—There was quite a surprise gathering at "Uncle Jimmie" Pollard's the 22d inst., it being his seventy-second birthday anniversary. "Uncle Jimmie's" good wife sent him off to see a sick neighbor, and when he returned the house was full of friends and neighbors and there was a heavily laden table of good things that the friends had brought in. All seemed to enjoy it, especially "Uncle Jimmie." Among those present were: Uncle George Lacy and wife, Uncle Billie Follard and daughter, Miss Anna; Mrs. S. A. Stuart and daughter, Mrs. Ellison Woods and five children, Mrs. Warren Hurt and three children, Miss Florence Allee and Will Whiting.

Those from town were Mrs. James Rohon and son, Mrs. Emmett Sanders and son, Mrs. Holges and little daughter.

There would have been a great many more, but there were two threshers in the neighborhood. "Uncle Jimmie" says he did not know he had so many friends. He seemed to enjoy it hugely. The guests all departed late in the afternoon, wishing "Uncle Jimmie" and his good wife many more such days. —A Guest.

ILLINOIS TURTLE FARM

Owner Expects Also to Raise Gold Fish and Guinea Pigs.

A mud turtle farm, which will also be devoted to the raising of mushrooms, gold fish and guinea pigs, is the latest venture of the head of one of the big western railroads, says the Macomb, Ill., Journal. President H. I. Miller, of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois is the man who has hit upon this novel form of diversified farming as a relief from business cares, and he intends incidentally to show the farmers of the grain belt that 200 acres of terrapins and guinea pigs will pay bigger dividends than even 80-cent corn.

The farm is located at Barrington, a suburb of Chicago, and is a tract of rolling, timbered land. Numerous lagoons and roads are being dug at various points on the property, and an elaborate system of irrigating ditches will be established. The guinea pig yards will cover several acres and will be the largest. It is expected, in the country. The mushrooms will be allowed to grow wild wherever they will in marshy spots and damp nooks in the woods.

With the starting of the farm comes to light some interesting facts about a little known industry. It is estimated that over 10,000 turtles are consumed annually in Chicago restaurants. Some of them are terrapin, but the greater part are mud turtles, soft shells and snappers. The demand for mushrooms is enormous.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and aid organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble," by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the deflection of other organs.

If you have bitter bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea or "sickness" in stomach after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical doctors of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advertised. Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine of known composition.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

OLYMPIC YACHT RACES

BOTH OF PRINCIPAL AQUATIC EVENTS TO BE DECIDED PRESENT WEEK.

ARE DIVIDED INTO FIVE CLASSES

Several Leading European Yacht Clubs Have Entered Today's Regatta—How to Decide in Case of Ties.

London, July 27.—Both the principal aquatic events of the Olympian will be decided this week, the yacht racing commencing Monday off Hyde, and the rowing regatta beginning today at Henley. Several European yacht clubs have entered in the regatta, which will be continued today and Wednesday.

The yachts entered have been divided into five classes. Three races will be sailed in each class. In the event of three different yachts winning these races points will be allotted to them according to the following scale:

Three points for a first place, two points for a second, and one for a third. Should two or more winners in any one class tie under these conditions, they shall sail an extra match on a day to be appointed, and the winner of this match shall be adjudged the absolute winner of the series.

Any time for second place will be decided in the same manner.

The committee of the Yacht Racing association will be the sailing committee, and the officer of the day will be one of its members. All races will be started from the finish at Hyde pier, Isle of Wight.

The rowing regatta will commence today at Henley-on-Thames and continue three days. The course is a mile and a half in length. Four events will be decided, for eight oars, four oars, pair oars and sculls. Only "gentlemen" will be allowed to compete, and this is defined to exclude any person "who is or has been by trade employed at manual labor for money or wages." The same rules regarding amateurs applies to the crews of the yachts.

THIS PEDDLER WAS SMOOTH

He Had Hair Brushes and Also Fly Paper for Bald Heads.

Sleep well, eat well, work well, and put by for a rainy day—those are the rules to keep if one wants to become an expert golfer.

The speaker was John D. Rockefeller. He made a fair drive and resumed:

"And to become a good reporter you must be persistent. But I don't need to tell you that, young man."

"With persistence anything can be accomplished. A peddler entered a business man's office the other day."

"I am introducing," he began, "a patent electric hairbrush."

"What do I want with a hairbrush?" growled the business man.

"Can't you see I'm bald?"

"Your lady, perhaps?"

"Bald, too, except when she's dressed up."

"Yes, sir, but you may have at home a little child."

"We have. It's a month old, and quite bald."

"Of course, at that age," said the peddler. "But," he persisted, maybe you keep a dog."

"We do," said the business man. "A hairless Chinese dog."

"The peddler dived into another pocket."

"Allow me," he said, "to show you the latest thing in flypaper."

HAVE SURPLUS OF FURNITURE.

Writer Criticises Modern Methods of House Adornment.

Most people have far too much furniture in their houses, and certainly the majority indulge in too much textile fabric. Too many curtains, too many antimacassars, too many mats and cushions, says a writer in Good Health. All these things collect and hold dust, and curtains shut out fresh air and sunshine. Carpets, especially in the rooms we sleep in, I would abolish.

The bedroom carpet is a snare, and the sooner it makes its final exit the better for the family health. That great artist and critic, William Morris, once said: "Have nothing in your house that you do not know to be useful or believe to be beautiful. This is counsel many women might take to heart, thereby making their homes more beautiful, and undoubtedly far easier to keep clean and orderly."

HOW LONG DO BANK NOTES LIVE?

Generally But a Short Time—Where Institution Makes Profit.

What is the life of a Bank of England note? According to an official of the bank, the average life or period that a note was out was, for a £5 note, 62 days; a £10 note, 58 days; £20 to £100 note, 30 days; £200 to £500 note, 11 days; £1,000 note, 5 days.

A little consideration will be sufficient to convince any one that the authorities of the bank must reap a very handsome sum year by year from their note issue. Think, however, what thousands of notes are destroyed—say, by fire or shipwreck—and consequently are never presented for payment. A gentleman who has recently retired from an important post in the city has in his possession a genuine £1 Bank of England note bearing date February 9, 1758. Had this money been invested on the usual deposit rates the bank would have credited some one's account since then with an amount well over £2,000.—London Tit-Bits.

WHO WILL WIN THE CUP?

TROPHY PRESENTED TO SPANISH FEDERATION OF YACHT CLUBS.

BY MR. F. L. CLARK, AN AMERICAN

First Race Will Be Run at San Sebastian, Spain, Tomorrow—Race Last Year at Kiel Pleasantly Remembered.

Madrid, July 28.—The first race of sonderklasse yachts for the trophy presented to the Spanish Federation of Yacht Clubs by F. Lewis Clark, the American yachtsman, will be held tomorrow at San Sebastian. King Alfonso has had a boat specially built for the contest and believes that he has a good chance of winning the trophy.

When the American yachtsmen that had raced at Kiel last year visited Spanish waters with their boats and met the leading Corinthians about San Sebastian, Bilbao and Santander in a series of sonderklasse competitions, it was not only a very sportsmanlike act, but it more firmly cemented the new friendship existing between the two countries.

Among the competitors, both at Kiel and San Sebastian, was Vice Commodore F. Lewis Clark, Eastern Yacht club, of Marblehead, who felt that the American yachtsmen were called upon to show in some tangible way their appreciation of the courtesies and kindness received at the time from their Spanish yachting associates.

Finally Commodore Clark decided that the presentation of a racing trophy to the Spanish Federation of Yacht clubs would be appropriate, and, acting upon that decision, at once ordered from a firm in Cowes a superb gold cup, which has been given to the Federation, not only because of the courtesies received, but "as an incentive to the noble sport of yachting and to the building up of yachts in Spain."

The memorandum of gift accompanying the cup stipulates that the Federation shall arrange for annual regattas for the trophy, consisting of not less than three nor more than five races, to be sailed not oftener than once each calendar year.

It is open to sailing yachts of dimensions to be fixed by the Federation, built in Spain, and owned by persons who at the time are members of a yacht club belonging to the Federation; to be steered by members of said clubs, and the crews of which shall consist wholly of amateurs; and open also to such other yachts built in Spain and sailed by Spanish amateurs as may be permitted by the Federation to compete.

Provided, however, that the first year the said Federation may, if it choose, arrange the various races for the said cup to be sailed in the waters of San Sebastian, Bilbao and Santander, so as to insure equality of opportunity to the members of the various clubs comprising the Federation. But all the races sailed the first year shall constitute and be considered as but one regatta.

The cup shall become the absolute property of the persons, who, as owners, shall have first won three annual regattas.

TO SELECT MOTOR BOATS

FOR AMERICA TO CONTEST FOR BRITISH INTERNATIONAL TROPHY.

RACE FOR THE CUP NEXT SATURDAY

Seven New Boats Built to Defend the Trophy—All Are Fast and Expected That Good Time Will Be Made.

New York, July 28.—Trials were commenced Monday, and will be concluded Tuesday to select the three American motor boats which will defend the British international trophy against the fastest boats of English makers. The trials are being held over the course off Huntington, L. I., where the race for the cup will be held next Saturday.

There are nine starters in all, and the Motor Boat Club of America can select three to defend the cup against a like number of foreign craft, there being, however, but two challengers.

The cup, which represents the motor boat supremacy of the world, was captured last year by the Dixie, and it is now up to the Motor Boat Club of America to defend it.

Seven new boats were built to defend the cup, and with two of the old flyers in there are nine boats in all at the line for the trials. All the boats are fast, but they will have to make speed records to defeat the two challengers.

The three defenders chosen in the trials will have as competitors in the contest for the trophy two English boats—the Wolseley-Siddeley, the twin-screw 400-horsepower craft owned by the Duke of Westminster, that has attracted a great deal of notice in races at Monte Carlo and elsewhere during the past three months, and the Daimler III, owned by Lord Howard de Walden.

The boats entered in the trials are the Ailsa Craig, Chip III, Antowin II, Dixie II, Simplex XIII, Gray, Sea Otter, Den and Dixie.

COLLECTION WAS LARGE

In Consequence Pastor Was Rather Confused.

Joseph Leiter, at a Washington dinner party a few days before his marriage, said he agreed with John D. Rockefeller and Russell Sage that young men with their way to make in the world should not take vacations.

"A vacation doesn't strengthen the average man," said Mr. Leiter. "Deranging all his regular habits, it weakens him. He plays too hard on his vacation. He comes back home thin and pale and tired."

"But good hard, regular work, with the temperate habits it necessitates, is good for a young man's health. Nearly all the breakdowns laid to hard work are really due to something else—to bad hours, to dissipation."

"I always liked to hear the story my father used to tell of a big, rosy country preacher who said, one Sunday morning in June:

"My friends, I am all run down from the winter's work and the collection today will be devoted to my traveling expenses, as I am going to the shore for my health. The more you give me the longer I can stay away."

"The preacher's look was rather confused when he announced afterward to the people that the collection was the largest in the history of the church."

OLD AGE A DISEASE?

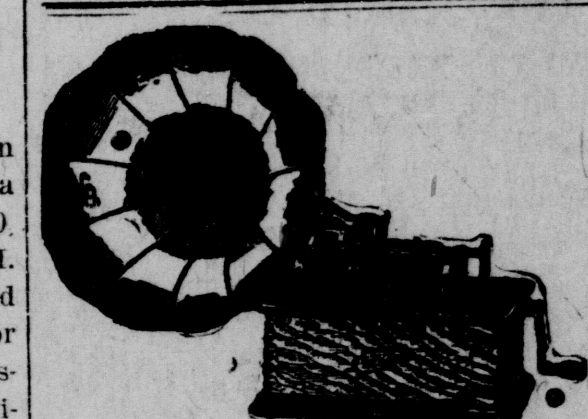

Doctor Says It Will Be Treated and Cured Same as Bronchitis.

Paris, July 28.—Dr. Metchnikoff, of the Pasteur institute, the noted specialist and student of the human organism, has discovered a new disease, which he has named "macrophagocytosis."

It is, in popular language, the disease of old age, which, the scientist asserts, is curable.

He says that a hundred years hence the disease will be treated as bronchitis and diphtheria are treated and cured at the present time.

MR. TAFT IS "NOTIFIED"

DID NOT DECLINE THE REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION.

THE ADDRESS OF SENATOR WARNER

Nominee of the "G. O. P." Made Appropriate Reply—What He Had to Say Regarding Injunctions, Income Tax, Etc., Etc.

Cincinnati, O., July 28.—Notification day broke this morning with a roar of cannon from seven hills, which looked down this morning through the haze and smoke to discover the city in a flutter. Cincinnati was bedecked and garlanded, with flags flying and banners waving, the streets thronged, bands playing and the budding carnival of riotous enthusiasm in process growing into full bloom.

The notification ceremonies at the historic old Taft mansion, on Pike street, were impressive in directness and simplicity, in the appropriateness of the surroundings, in the presence of the national party leaders and visiting republicans from Ohio and surrounding states, and in the regard and pride of neighbors and personal friends of the candidate, the citizens of Cincinnati, who for the first time have been honored by the selection of a presidential candidate from their number, the name "Taft" was on every lip, and the "Taft smile" was commented on as being universally in evidence.

It was 9:30 o'clock when the crowds began to participate in the exercises. The early ceremony constituted a simple expression of neighborly affection. Charles P. Taft was made custodian of a huge American flag, which was raised to the top of a fifty-foot staff, erected in the front yard of the Taft mansion, the gift of the people of Cincinnati to the Taft family, with the single stipulation that it be raised whenever the candidate is in the city and lowered during his absence.

Senator William Warner, of Missouri, chairman of the notification committee, escorted Mr. Taft to a substantial platform over the old stone steps leading to the entrance to the Taft mansion. Mr. Taft was smiling and happy.

Senator Warner's speech was brief, and Judge Taft, acknowledging the information imparted, stated in his first sentence that he accepted the nomination with a full sense of its obligations.

For the sake of his hearers Mr. Taft had taken his blue pencil and gone through his 12,000-word speech for the sole purpose of making its delivery a matter of less than one hour instead of two hours. He did not, however, eliminate any topics touched upon, but simply took out long detailed explanations, all of which will appear in full in the printed document.

With the speech over the scene shifted for a review of the parade. Automobiles followed the last marching club, and the committee members were taken aboard and whisked through the city out to the famous Cincinnati Country club, where, later, upon being joined by Mr. Taft, they were served with an elaborate but informal luncheon.

The day's festivities are to be brought to a close by a night program of fireworks from the hills, intended to surpass any previous display. This will be witnessed only by the candidate, the notification committee and distinguished guests from the deck of the steamer "Island Queen," which will be escorted by the Ohio river by a flotilla of profusely illuminated smaller craft.

Senator Warner's Address.
Senator William Warner, of Missouri, chairman of the notification committee, spoke as follows:

Mr. Taft: You are, of course, not unaware that Mr. Roosevelt's term as president of the United States will expire on March fourth, nineteen hundred and nine; that the political parties of our country are perfecting their organizations preparatory to presenting to the people, at the general election to be held in November, next, their respective candidates for the high office; that the republican party in national convention, composed of delegates representing every state and territory and outlying possessions of the United States, as assembled at Chicago on June 16 to 17, inclusive, has completed its deliberations; that it has outlined and submitted to the citizenship of the republic, for consideration and adoption, governmental policies, which it confidently believes will be of the highest service to the nation in its every part; that it has from among its strong and experienced statesmen, men whom service to the public has demonstrated their worthiness in clearness of character, devotion to the country and the welfare of the individual citizen, and with full understanding of the nation's needs in her highest and best aspirations, selected you as its candidate for president, the highest honor that can be conferred by this constitutional republic, and I would, therefore, add, the most exalted political office on this earth; and the committee which you see before you, whose chairman

BROWN NOT TO GET SEAT

IN THE INDEPENDENCE PARTY CONVENTION IN CHICAGO TODAY.

WANTED OFFICE WITH DEMOCRATS

Californians Want a Strong Plank Against Asiatic Immigration —The Probable Financial Plank.

Chicago, July 28.—The committee on credentials of the Independence party declined to grant a seat in the convention to E. A. Gerry Brown, of Massachusetts. It is claimed he made overtures to the democratic party, claiming he would be available as a candidate for that organization, because of the strength he possessed in the Independence party.

The Californians are strongly pressing for a forcible declaration against Asiatic immigration, and a strong plank on this subject is looked for.

It is also probable that the financial plank will favor the issuance of all money direct by the government instead of through the medium of national banks.

JOHN ALBERT JOHNSON

THE GOVERNOR OF MINNESOTA IS FORTY-SEVEN YEARS OF AGE TODAY.

A TRULY SELF-MADE STATESMAN

Was Formerly Editor of Weekly Newspaper at St. Peter, Minn.—Was Elected in 1906 by a Majority of 70,200.

St. Paul, Minn., July 28.—John Albert Johnson, governor of Minnesota, is today receiving the congratulations of distinguished men all over the nation upon the occasion of his 47th birthday.

Although defeated for the democratic presidential nomination, the friends of the governor declare that this year's skirmish was but a beginning and that four years hence, no matter who is elected, Johnson will be the only man seriously mentioned for the leadership of his party.

It is asserted, too, on what appears to be good authority, that Johnson is slated for a prominent place in Bryan's cabinet, in case the Nebraska goes to the White House.

Johnson's speedy rise to fame is almost a record-breaker, even in America. When he celebrated his fortieth birthday seven years ago, Johnson was the editor of a little paper in the little town of St. Peter, Minn., and was hardly known outside of his home county. Today his influence extends over the nation, and he is even better known in the east and south than in the north and west.

It was on July 28, 1861, that Johnson first saw the light in St. Peter, the village which he still calls home. His father and mother were Swedish immigrants. The former was hopelessly addicted to drink and died in an almshouse, while the mother, during the days of grinding poverty in which Johnson spent his youth, was a washerwoman. There were six children in the family, and the future governor was forced to leave school at 13 to take up the burden of their support.

Beginning his career as clerk in a general store at $10 a month, later becoming a drug clerk and finally the editor of a country paper, Johnson was too busy to take an active part in politics until about ten years ago. In 1898 he was elected to the state senate, and immediately became a force for reform.

In 1904 he was nominated for governor of Minnesota on the democratic ticket. No one thought he could win—except Johnson himself. Although Minnesota is overwhelmingly republican, and in that year gave Roosevelt a majority of 161,000, Johnson carried the state by 7,000. In 1906 he was re-elected by 72,000.

Although it would be an exaggeration to call Governor Johnson handsome, he is yet attractive in appearance. He is over six feet in height, weighs about 175 pounds and has a strong, angular face, with blue eyes and brown hair.

Whether Johnson, the erstwhile country editor, will some day become the greatest man of the nation, is a question for the future to decide. To his friends such a culmination of his career appears not only possible, but probable.

A GOOD MOTTO, THIS IS

Governor Buchtel Presents Pin to John T. Stinson.

Gov. Buchtel of Colorado, who talked on "Theodore Roosevelt" at the Chautauqua Monday night, delivering a non-partisan lecture that has never been surpassed in Sedalia, at the conclusion of his remarks pinned on the lapel of the coat of John T. Stinson, secretary of the state fair, a blue enameled pin bearing these significant words:

"Smile and Push."
These pins are original with the Denver board of trade, and "Smile and Push" is the campaign cry in the metropolis of the Centennial state.

The motto is a splendid one, and not only should it be adopted by the state fair board, but by every resident of Sedalia as well.
Here's to "Smile and Push."

RESORTS RUN WIDE OPEN

CREVE COEUR LAKE WAS SCENE OF VICIOUS REVELRY ON SUNDAY.

LIQUOR IS SOLD FREELY TO GIRLS

Similar Conditions Elsewhere in County, Though in Places Only Side Doors Were Open and Lookouts Were Posted.

St. Louis, Mo., July 28.—Creve Coeur lake, girt with wooded hills and fanned by summer winds, was the scene Sunday of ribald debauchery, where women danced without restraint of modesty and young girls were taught to take their first drink. Without effort at concealment, intoxicating liquors were sold at six places to all who sought them and none was refused on account of youth.

Similar conditions prevailed in other sections of St. Louis county. Reporters visited resorts on South Broadway, in Wellston, University City and other places as well as Creve Coeur and in all sections saloons were open and whisky and beer were on sale.

The "Lake of the Broken Heart" won its name in a new significance. Many mothers who permitted young daughters to go thither in the belief that the law would be enforced probably will reap a harvest of tears. The beautiful resort became the scene of the ugliest excesses, and during the whole day, until midnight sent the weary and drunken revelers home, not one county official attempted to check the orgy.

A reporter who spent the day at Creve Coeur was told by a waiter that the drinking places there were never closed as long as anyone wanted to be served. They were open until 1 a. m. Monday.

As the day advanced every car brought new recruits to the revelry. At the pavilions across the lake, reached by skiff and gasoline launch, children sat about the tables and drank with their elders. Many girls from 12 to 16 years of age were escorted by middle-aged men, who bought them liquor, encouraged them to drink it, and caressed them as the liquor mounted to their heads.

The "bouncer" was absent from the dancing pavilion, because there was no rule nor law to be observed. Each couple danced as it would. Women amused themselves by throwing beer on one another and fights were frequent.

Bertha Funderbark, a 15-year-old girl who met three men at a county resort, was rescued from them by the police after the men had brought her into St. Louis.

In calling for drinks at Creve Coeur, no subterfuge was necessary. The thin pretense of selling beer and whisky as tea or soda was dispensed with, and all called loudly for what they wanted. Waiters openly commented with the guests on the advantages of freedom there, and assured them of immunity from interference by county officials.

One of the most popular places was William Wipke's park and dancing pavilion, as it is styled on an illuminated sign. It is in reality a floating dance floor at the west side of the lake. On one side of the floor is a bar and around it are scores of tables

BURNED AT THE STAKE

"TAD" SMITH, AN 18-YEAR-OLD NEGRO, IN HUNT COUNTY, TEXAS, TODAY.

WAS GUILTY OF BRUTAL ASSAULT

Identified by Victim, a White Girl, and the Mob That Quickly Formed Did the Rest in Short Order.

Dallas, Tex., July 28.—"Tad" Smith, a negro, 18 years old, charged with criminal assault on Miss Viola Delaney, of Clinton, Hunt county, yesterday afternoon, was captured by officers early today.

He was taken before the young woman and identified. The prisoner was then hurried toward the Greenville jail.

Before arriving there a mob of citizens overpowered the officers, took the negro and prepared to hang him. This idea was given up, and an agreement to burn him at the stake in public was carried out.

Talked at Windsor Chautauqua.

T. B. Anderson, brother of Mrs. W. C. B. Dixon, of this city, who is visiting in this part of the country from his home in the Isle of Pines, acted as substitute for one of the attractions at the Chautauqua at Windsor last night, and carried the house with delight.

Mr. Anderson delivered a talk on his home country, and the undivided attention of every auditor was given him throughout.

LEASED THE THIRD FLOOR

The Queen City Telephone Company to Branch Out.

The Queen City Telephone company, which was recently purchased from out-of-town parties by Sedalia capitalists, has leased the third floor of Peter Brandt's building, adjoining the Brandt Grocery company, and in future will occupy the third floors of both the corner and adjoining buildings.

Extensive improvements and new purchases necessitate additional space, hence the rental of the other building. The lease is for five years.

MR. BRYAN IS GRATIFIED

Lincoln, Neb., July 28.—Mr. Bryan arrived here this morning and went at once to his home at Fairview. He expressed satisfaction at the selection of the sub-committee of the national committee, and was highly gratified at the reception accorded him in Iowa and Nebraska.

CARNEGIE IN A COLLISION

Car Was Damaged in Scotland, but No One Injured.

Inverness, Scotland, July 28.—A car in which Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie were motoring here today collided with another car.

Mr. Carnegie's car was damaged, but no one was injured.

Paving Job Is Completed.

Contractor C. P. Werner, who began the paving of East Fifth street, from Ohio to Hancock avenue on April 30, last, completed the work yesterday. Owing to the many inclement days, the work was materially delayed.

SPOKE AGAIN LAST NIGHT

GOVERNOR BUCHEL WAS THE INTERESTING ATTRACTION AT THE CHAUTAUQUA.

SUBJECT: "THEODORE ROOSEVELT"

Was a Talk That Should Have Been Heard by Every Young Man and Boy in Sedalia—Other Attractions Most Excellent.

The average attendance at the Chautauqua yesterday was perhaps larger than any day since the assembly opened.

Although the afternoon was very threatening the large tent was filled by eager Chautauquans at 2:30 o'clock. The Dunbar male quartette gave a full concert which in every respect ranked high.

The Dunbars are delightful entertainers and not only by their catchy "stunts," but by their artistic work as well they captured their audience. At 7:30 the Dunbars gave a prelude entertainment and presented many delightful and catchy numbers. The handbell work of the Dunbars is great and these gentlemen are masters of their art.

It was 9 p. m. when Gov. Buchtel was introduced, and although the great audience was tired, he held them for an hour and a half by his able and delightful address on Theodore Roosevelt. It was not a political or partisan speech, but a tracing of those streams of influence that have made Roosevelt the strong, courageous straightforward patriot that he is. Every young man and boy in the city should have heard this great talk.

The Chautauqua does not close until Friday night, and the management assure us that some of the very best attractions are yet to appear.

This afternoon Dr. Frank Bennett Lane is giving his lecture on "Fabled Faerie."

Tonight at 7:30 Tom Corwin will give a prelude entertainment, and at 8 o'clock Edward P. Eliot will give "The Man of the Hour," a dramatic recital. This promises to be one of the very best attractions that will be given at the Chautauqua.

Tomorrow the Trier sisters quartette will give two concerts. In the afternoon Henry W. Clark will give his famous lecture on "Play Ball," and at 8 o'clock Hon. Arthur K. Peck will give an illustrated lecture on "The United States Life Savers." This promises to be something instructive as well as entertaining.

Thursday Schukret's famous Hungarian orchestra will be here for two grand concerts. This orchestra is even stronger than it was last year, having received valuable additions.

Friday, the closing day, will be full of good things, and the most successful of Sedalia's Chautauquas will be closed.

CAME HERE FOR TREATMENT

Mrs. Patrick Cashman, of the Houstonia Neighborhood.

Mrs. Deborah Cashman, of the Houstonia neighborhood, wife of Patrick Cashman and mother of John Cashman, attorney for the Missouri Pacific railway at St. Louis, who is 78 years of age, and has for a long period been helpless with rheumatism, was brought to Sedalia on the Lexington branch train this morning and taken to the home of Mrs. Al Baumgartner, 407 West Tenth street, where she will be cared for and treated by an osteopath.

She was accompanied by her husband, daughter-in-law, Mrs. Will Cashman, and maid, Miss Alfter.

Mrs. Cashman was carried from the train and placed in a carriage driven along the station platform for the accommodation of the patient.

TURKEY TAKES A STEP FOR- WARD.

An event of international importance is the granting of a constitution and parliament by the sultan to Turkey. Of scarcely less importance is the restoration of the constitution to Macedonia. These two events, coupled with the internal events in Turkey proper and her quasi-dependency in its relation to the foreign policy of Europe, are of far-reaching consequence. Turkey, for the first time in Abdul Hamid's long and reactionary reign, has a glimpse of real sunlight which bids fair to spread real peace and contentment over that troubled nation.

The sultan was not moved to his act by patriotic or humanitarian motives. He was forced to it by the old law of self-preservation, which is as strong in the breast of a ruler as of a subject. He might have held out.
He might have sustained his seat on the tottering throne until death, that is not many years distant, came to his succor. But the prospect was not alluring. The tremendous growth of the young Turks party, which stands for a new reformed, modern, enlightened Turkey, loomed up on the horizon with cyclonic proportions. The court intrigues, upon which the sultan relied above all else for the stability of his rule, were rapidly losing control over the army. The whole nation was restless. Macedonia was preparing for another resolution, and back and beyond all was the probability of European interference when the crash came. Would Turkey emerge as a territorial entity? Would Abdul Hamid still be alive and would he still rule? The sultan's inability to give himself reassuring answers to these questions nerve-his hand for the stroke of the pen that in the near future will make him a figurehead monarch, like others of advancing empires.

A constitution and parliament for Turkey are a momentous thing. They mean, if the people hold him rigidly to the grant, the modernizing of the most fossilized nation in Europe, Russia not excepted. They mean the clearing of the worst political storm center on the continent. They mean the solution of the vexatious "near-eastern" problem. They mean a government with which other nations and the United States in particular will be able to transact business and maintain amicable relations. In short, the regeneration of Turkey, promised by the sultan's capitulation, will remove from the side of troubled Europe the thorn that for the last century has caused it more irritation and apprehension than any other.

HOGS AND TAFT.

A republican politician in Iowa says: "With hogs at $8 a hundred, you can't pry the Iowa farmers loose from the republican party with a crowbar."

Perhaps it would be useless to try to convince the Hawkeye farmers that the republican party does not fix the price of hogs, and that pork would be as high under Bryan as under Taft. But the Iowa republicans are highly progressive, adds the Philadelphia Record. They are scarcely behind those of Wisconsin. They admire Roosevelt and are reconciled to Taft because he promises to keep the Roosevelt policies going. But if Mr.
Taft's letter of acceptance should prove the soothing potion that has been predicted for the benefit of the commercial centers, the Iowa farmers will have nothing to do but support Bryan, and in that contingency it is admitted by some republican leaders they are very likely to do so. Taft has got to satisfy republican radicalism or run a heavy risk of losing several northwestern states. And if he satisfies the radicals the financial and commercial interests will care nothing whether he shall be elected or not.

THE LONESOME TRUSTS.

The corporations have certainly fallen into disrepute, with statesmen at least. Forbidden by law, under heavy penalties, to give a cent to campaign treasuries, they were ordered off the premises by Mr. Bryan, and now Mr. Taft, to make assurance doubly sure, has set up the no trespass sign also. Whoever, therefore, is to be president the corporations, whose very money is contaminating, will have no claim to consideration.

No doubt they deserve such ostracism. It is possible, however, adds the New York Globe, that the country has many excellent citizens who envy them their fate, and may try to share it by incorporating themselves. Long the easy prey of not too easily satisfied politicians, the corporations can now go about their business undisturbed by constant fears of renewed demands upon their emergency accounts. Verily, it is to them that have that shall be given.

GERMANY AND WAR.

Germany is able to put 4,750,000 men under arms. A war fought against another European power would cost her $1,500,000,000 per annum as long as it lasted. The indirect loss through financial depression and the paralysis of industry would be much greater; if three, four or more powers should become involved, which would be likely in view of existing alliances, the drain on the resources of Europe would be appalling.
The losses in killed and wounded of the Japanese armies in the recent war were 20 per cent of the men in the field; on the same basis Germany's losses in a war of equal duration would be 900,000 men, but the percentage of killed and wounded would be much higher. A war in Europe under modern conditions would be a "veritable orgy of blood." These facts and figures are not culled from a peace society publication, but quotations included; they are transcribed from a bulletin issued by the general staff of the German army on the authority of Gen. Blume.

ROOFS AND SKIES.

George Oakley Totten, jr., of Washington, one of the American delegates to the International Congress of Architects at Vienna, delivered an address at the convention, in the course of which, speaking of the development of skyscrapers as a result of conditions in the United States, he said:
"Conditions are likely to arise which will greatly influence the architecture of the future. To sail through the air is no longer a mere picture of the imagination, and the day may not be far distant when the architect will have to devote his attention to beautifying not only the fronts of buildings, but the roofs as well, so that they may not offend the eye of the aesthetic traveler through the sky."

HOW PRIEST WAS DROWNED

Fr. Canidus Mertens of Odessa Lost
His Life in the Lake.

Odessa, Mo., July 28.—Canidus Mertens, priest of the Catholic church of Odessa, was drowned about 8 o'clock
Sunday night while bathing in the Chicago & Alton lake, Lake Venita, just without the city limits.

Father Mertens was a good swimmer and as he was drowned in a shallow part of the lake where the water was not more than four or five feet deep, it is thought that he suffered an attack of heart failure or of cramps.

The body was recovered by J. R.
Wright, an actor at the Airdome theater here.

Father Mertens was 28 years old and had been in the priesthood for two years only, Odessa being his first parish. He also preached at Concordia and Dover. The funeral was held Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock and the body shipped to his old home,

Man—the Driver.

No man will ever admit that any woman can drive better than he can.
Even the woman who dances on the back of a horse at the circus doesn't know as much about horses as he does. The only reason he can't dance on the back of a horse is that he can't dance; it isn't the back of the horse that cuts any figure. The man who drives with a woman, and lets the woman drive, should have one of these two signs tacked to him if he wants to keep the respect of other men: "I am in love," or "I have rheumatism in my fingers."—Arlington Globe.

ship I have the honor to hold, in the temporary absence from the United States of the Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, permanent chairman of the republican national convention, now tending to you, at the direction of that convention, the formal nomination of the republican party for the presidency of the United States, and I hand you an engrossed copy of the platform of policies adopted by that convention.

I can not, sir, complete the discharge of this most agreeable duty without assuring you of the high respect in which you are held, not only by those of your own political faith, but by your fellow citizens without regard to party, of their admiration of your ability, manifested throughout your public service; of their knowledge of the preparation which you will bring to the discharge of the high and difficult duties of president; of their belief in your deep conviction of the equality of all men before the law, and of the practical application of that principle by any administration of which you may be the head, the rule by which every official act of Mr. Roosevelt, as president, has been squared, which has won for him the confidence and respect of his countrymen throughout the land, and which has brought to him at all times their unquestioned and earnest support. It was his universal application of this rule which caused his party, in national convention, to pay him the following just and splendid tribute of approval:

"His administration is an epoch in American history. In no other period since the national sovereignty was won under Washington or preserved under Lincoln, has there been such mighty progress in those ideals of government which make for justice, equality and fair dealing among men. The highest aspirations of the American people have found voice. Their most exalted servant represents the best aims and worthiest purposes of all his countrymen. American manhood has been lifted up to a nobler sense of duty and obligation. Conscience and courage in public station and high standards of right and wrong in private life have been the cardinal principles of political life. Capital and labor have been brought into closer relations of confidence and independence, and the abuse of wealth and the tyranny of power, and all evils and privileged favoritism have been put to scorn by the simple and manly virtues of justice and fair play."

It is gratifying to your countrymen to reflect that of that administration you have been a conspicuous part, as you were of the administration of Mr. McKinley, whose accomplishments mark a national progress unsurpassed in all of our previous national life.

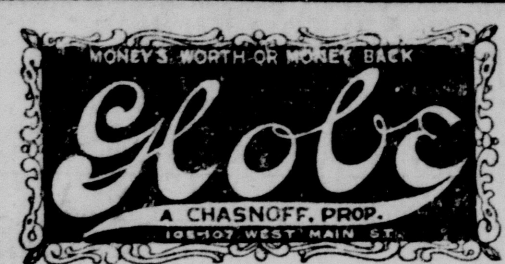

It, therefore, gives me genuine pleasure, Mr. Taft, to present to you this formal nomination of the republican party, whose governmental policies have for so long "kept in balance the mighty forces of the nation," and to whose continued guidance of the nation we have every reason to believe that the people are now looking.

The Reply of Mr. Taft.

Mr. Taft, in his reply, reviewed all the questions at issue at great length, saying, among other things:

Notice and Hearing Before Issue of Injunction.

I come now to the question of notice before issuing an injunction. It is a fundamental rule of general jurisprudence that no man shall be affected by a judicial proceeding without notice and hearing. This rule, however, has sometimes had an exception in the issuing of temporary restraining orders commanding a defendant in effect to maintain the status quo until a hearing. Such a process should issue only in rare cases where the threatened change of the status quo would inflict irreparable injury if time were taken to give notice and a summary hearing. The unlawful injury usual in industrial disputes, such as I have described, does not become formidable except after sufficient time in which to give the defendants notice and a hearing. I do not mean to say that there may not be cases even in industrial disputes where a restraining order might properly be issued without notice, but, generally, I think it is otherwise. In some state courts, and in fewer federal courts, the practice of issuing a temporary restraining order without notice merely to preserve the status quo on the theory that it won't hurt anybody, has been too common. Many of us recall that the practice has been pursued in other than industrial pursuits, as, for instance, in corporate and stock controversies like those over the Erie railroad, in which a stay order without notice was regarded as a step of great advantage to the one who secured it, and a corresponding disadvantage to the one against whom it was secured. Indeed, the chances of doing injustice on an ex-parte application are much increased over those when a hearing is granted, and there may be circumstances under which it may affect the defendant to his detriment. In the case of a lawful strike, the sending of a formidable document restraining a number of defendants from doing a great many different things which the plaintiff avers they are threatening to do, often so discourages men always reluctant to go into a strike from continuing what is their lawful right. This has made the laboring man feel that an injustice is done in the issuing of a writ without notice. I conceive that in the treatment of this question it is the duty of the citizen and the legislator to view the subject from the standpoint of the man who believes himself to be unjustly treated, as well as from that of the community at large. I have suggested the remedy of returning in such cases to the original practice under the old statute of the United States and the rules in equity adopted by the supreme court, which did not permit the issuing of an injunction without notice. In this respect, the republican convention has adopted another remedy, that, without going so far, promises to be efficacious in securing proper consideration in such cases by courts, by formulating into a legislative act the best present practice.

Under this recommendation, a statute may be framed which shall define with considerable particularity, and emphasize the exceptional character of the cases in which restraining orders may issue without notice, and which shall also provide that when they are issued, they shall cease to be operative beyond a short period, during which time notice shall be served and a hearing had unless the defendant desires a postponement of the hearing. By this provision the injustice which has sometimes occurred by which a preliminary restraining order of widest application has been issued without notice, and the hearing of the motion for the injunction has been fixed weeks and months after its date, could not recur.

Small Number of Cases Furnishing Grounds for Complaint in Federal Court.

The number of instances in which restraining orders without notice in industrial disputes have been issued by federal courts is small, and it is urged that they do not therefore constitute an evil to be remedied by statutory amendment. The small number of cases complained of above shows the careful manner in which most federal judges have exercised the jurisdiction, but the belief that such cases are numerous has been so widespread and has aroused such feelings of injustice that more definite specification in procedure to prevent recurrence of them is justified if it can be effected without injury to the administration of the law.

No Provision in Democratic Platform as to Notice; Only Recommendation Trial by Jury.

With respect to notice, the democratic platform contains no recommendation. Its only intelligible declaration in regard to injunction suits is a reiteration of the plank in the platforms of 1896 and 1904 providing that in prosecutions for contempt in federal courts, where the violation of the order constituting the contempt charged is indirect, i. e., outside of the presence of the court, there shall be a jury trial.

Dangerous Attack on Power of Courts.
This provision in the platform of 1896 was regarded then as a most dangerous attack upon the power of the courts to enforce their orders and decrees, and it was one of the chief reasons for the defeat of the democratic party in that contest, as it ought to have been. The extended operation of such a provision to weaken the power of the courts in the enforcement of its lawful orders can hardly be overstated.

Effect of Jury Trial.

Under such a provision a recalcitrant witness who refuses to obey a subpoena may insist on a jury trial before the court can determine that he received the subpoena. A citizen summoned as a juror and refusing to obey the writ when brought into court must be tried by another jury to determine whether he got the summons. Such a provision applies not alone to injunctions, but to every order which the court issues against persons. A suit may be tried in the court of first instance and carried to the court of appeals, and thence to the supreme court, and a judgment and decree entered and an order issued, and then if the decree involves the defendant's doing anything or not doing anything and he disobeys it, the plaintiff who has pursued his remedies in lawful course for years must, to secure his rights, undergo the uncertainties and delays of a jury trial before he can enjoy that which is his right by the decision of the highest court of the land. I say without hesitation that such a change will greatly impair the indispensable power and authority of the courts. Securing to the public the benefits of the new statutes enacted in the present administration, the ultimate instrumentality to be resorted to is the courts of the United States. If now their authority is to be weakened in a manner never known in the history of the jurisprudence of England or America, except in the constitution of Oklahoma, how can we expect that such statutes will have efficient enforcement? Those who advocate this intervention of a jury in such cases seem to suppose that this change in some way will inure only to the benefit of the poor working man. As a matter of fact, the person who will secure chief advantage from it is the wealthy and unscrupulous defendant, able to employ astute and cunning counsel and anxious to avoid justice.

I have been willing, in order to avoid a popular but unfounded impression that a judge, in punishing for contempt of his own order, may be affected by personal feeling, to approve a law which should enable the contemnor upon his application to have another judge sit to hear the charge of contempt, but this, with so many judges as there are available in the federal court, would not constitute a delay in the enforcement of the process. The character and efficiency of the trial would be the same.

Bondi Bros. & Com'y

It is the nature and the delay of a jury trial in such cases that those who would wish to defy the order of the court would rely upon as a reason for doing so.

Maintenance of Full Power of Courts Necessary to Avoid Anarchy.

The administration of justice lies at the foundation of government. The maintenance of the authority of the courts is essential unless we are prepared to embrace anarchy. Never in the history of the country has there been such an insidious attack upon the judicial system as the proposal to interject a jury trial between all orders of the court made after full hearing and the enforcement of such orders.

If I am elected president, I shall urge upon congress, with every hope of success, that a law be passed requiring a filing in a federal office of a statement of the contributions received by committees and candidates in elections for members of congress, and in such other elections as are constitutionally within the control of congress. Meantime the republican party by the selection of a New York treasurer has subjected all its receipts and expenditures to the compulsory obligation of such a law.

Income Tax.

The democratic platform demands two constitutional amendments, one providing for an income tax, and the other for the election of senators by the people. In my judgment, an amendment to the constitution for an income tax is not necessary. I believe that an income tax, when the protective system of customs and the internal revenue tax shall not furnish income enough for governmental needs, can and should be devised under which the decisions of the supreme court will conform to the constitution.

Election of Senators

With respect to the election of senators by the people, personally I am inclined to favor it, but it is hardly a party question. A resolution in its favor has passed a republican house of representatives several times and has been rejected in a republican senate by the votes of senators from both parties. It has been approved by the legislatures of many republican states. In a number of states, both democratic and republican, substantially such a system now prevails.

ALL LAND IN HANDS OF FEW.

New Yorkers Cannot Afford to Own Their Own Homes.

Fewer New Yorkers own their own homes than the residents of any other city in the world, says a writer in the National Magazine. The reason is a simple one: the land is so valuable that none but the very wealthy can afford its purchase. Of the 391,687 families living on Manhattan island only 16,316 hold title to the houses they occupy—and if you will bring that little pad and pencil into play again you will learn that 94 out of every 100 families make monthly payments to a landlord. When these families move, as they are constantly doing, it seems only necessary to take the family photographs from off the mantel—so completely has their method of life been systematized. As for the landlords, they are mightier in wealth and tenants than any feudal lords of old—as forsooth the Astors, whose immense multitude of dwellings house a greater number of people than are contained in a city of the size of Hartford, Conn.; Seattle, Wash., or Nashville, Tenn.

FREDDY HAD HIS EXCUSE, TOO.

Took Cue from Ingenious Explanation Made by Chum.

Two little youngsters shambled penitently into the classroom long after the school had opened for the morning session, says the Circle.

"Boys, come to my desk immediately," said the teacher.

The meek little lads walked to the teacher's desk and stood looking helplessly at their feet.

"Tommy, why are you late this morning?" asked the teacher.

"I overslept myself, ma'am," began Tommy. "You see, teacher, I dreamed I was going to take a railroad trip. Just got to the station when I woke up and found it was 'way past school time."

"Freddy, why are you late?" inquired the teacher, turning to the other boy.

"Please, ma'am," replied the trembling Freddy. "I went to the station to see Tommy off."

Last Moments of Great Musician.

A letter written by Count Gryzma, who was an ardent admirer of Chopin, has been made public in London by Eduard Zeldenzust. In it the last moments of Chopin are thus referred to: "A few hours before he died he asked Mme. Potocka to sing some melodies by Rossini and Bellini, and this she did with sobs in her voice. Listening to her voice he passed away." Speaking of the funeral the writer says: "Mozart's requiem and his own funeral march were performed with the assistance of Lablache, Viardot and the concert society. It was characteristic of the times that the artists should have asked 2,000 francs for this last tribute to Chopin. One would have thought that pride would have kept them from selling their gifts on such an occasion."

The Types of Cats.

There are a number of classes of Persian cats, the division between them being purely arbitrary and based on the color of the fur. The most beautiful of all the Persians is the pure white. They are, however, very hard to keep clean, and a dirty white cat is certainly anything but an ornament about one's rooms. It is unfortunate that many white cats are deaf, so when one is making a purchase of a cat that color it is a wise precaution to test the hearing. Another failing which white cats have, in common with all light colored cats, is that their constitutions are not so vigorous as those of the dark haired cats.—Suburban Life.

Noise.

Noise, at first cultivated in this land by the Indians, has reached its climax in the college yell. It is used at political conventions, at christenings and at women's clubs. No monument was necessary for the man who first invented noise. His work lives after him.

Noise is used by cities, which have the first call for it. They split it up into as many sounds as possible and divide it among all.

Noise varies in volume and intensity, from embryonic and immature sawmill to a baby crying in the night.—Life.

CORNELIUS ROACH'S NINE LITTLE HELPERS

The above is a reproduction of the picture on the campaign card that has caused so much comment all over Missouri the past week. They are the children of Cornelius Roach, candidate for the democratic nomination for secretary of state. The wording on the side of the card with the picture is:

"Say, Mister!—Won't you please vote for our papa for the democratic nomination for secretary of state? Here are nine reasons—and you may have others."

Mr. Roach is proprietor of the Carthage Democrat, has served as secretary of the state senate for several sessions and is one of the best known men in the state. He is not a factionalist and wears no man's collar. A vote for him Tuesday will be a vote to put a man on the ticket from Southwest Missouri, will be a vote for an active working democrat, and a clean, honest man. He is admittedly the best qualified man in the state for the office to which he aspires. He will add strength to the ticket.

Remember the name and the office. In importance it comes next to governor.

"MARSE HENRI" IS BUSY

Will Leave Nothing Undone in Bryan's Behalf.

Louisville, Ky., July 28.—Not since Tilden's candidacy for the presidency, in 1876, has "Marse Henri" Waterson taken any active part in campaign work. His consent to become chairman of the publicity committee of the democratic national campaign was no surprise to those who are aware of the editor's interest in Bryan's race.

In communicating with friends here yesterday the editor said he had decided to take up the work and did not propose to shirk any duty that was imposed upon him if he could be of service to Bryan.

It is also known that the National committee proposes to call on him to take the stump. Some weeks ago, however Waterson declared that under no circumstances would he make speeches in the campaign. He does not propose to go out of his province to aid in the campaign.

A SPANISH WAR VETERAN

MET A WOMAN AT LEXINGTON, KY., AND TOOK HER AS HIS FAIR BRIDE.

DID NOT TELL OF HIS WIFE IN WEST

The Charge Now Is That Charles Williams Has Cast Two Women Aside Without Getting Divorce From Either.

Lexington, Ky., July 28.—A letter received yesterday by Chief of Police Reagan from E. J. McWain, a pension attorney at Kansas City, indicates that Charles Williams, a veteran of the Spanish-American war, has deserted two wives.

Williams, after the campaign in Cuba, was granted a pension of $8 a month, issued to him from the department at Columbus, Ohio. At that time he was living with his wife, Lydia May Williams, who now resides at 2214 Lawn avenue, Kansas City, Missouri.

Some time during 1905 he wrote from Dayton, Ohio, to Emma Bruen, of this city, whom he had met while his regiment was in Camp Hamilton, near Lexington, in 1898.

In that letter he spoke of marriage, and Miss Bruen gave him encouragement. He came to Lexington, and on December 31, 1905, he and Miss Bruen went to Covington and were married.

They made their home in this city until May 13, last, when Williams disappeared and has since not been seen or heard of by wife No. 2.

Wife No. 1 made application from Kansas City for half of the pension and set up the claim of desertion. It was necessary that she have the acknowledgement of two witnesses that Williams was alive on June 4, 1904.

She had known of his presence in Lexington and had Attorney McWain send the papers, with a letter of explanation, to Chief Reagan. The chief sent one of his men to Williams' home here, and it was discovered that he had deserted another wife, and that wife No. 2 had no knowledge of the existence of wife No. 1.

BORES AT PUBLIC GATHERINGS.

Protest Against Prosy Utterers of Dreary Commonplaces.

Those who impute to us a national lack of patience and politeness must admit that there are occasions upon which we deserve a long mark for self-restraint and kindly consideration of the feelings of our tormentors. Undoubtedly altruism is one of the finest jewels in the moral crown, but it has its limits, and at the close of a season that has abounded in lectures and debates it seems a fitting time to protest against their being stretched beyond the point of human endurance by downright bores in the shape of chairmen and speakers, who vocally amble on and on while their audiences, however they may chafe inwardly at the waste of time and mental irritation, begotten of a dreary rehearsing of commonplaces, sit as patiently as dumb puppets.

In private their victims discuss the advisability of a stiff civil service course for chairmen who apparently are of the firm conviction that they are expected to make the longest addresses of the occasion over which they preside, and certainly they as well as other speakers frequently stand in need of training in the direction of much thought and few words.

GOOD FORTUNE CAME TOO LATE.

Lifelong Unfortunate Killed Himself at Moment of Luck's Turn.

A French provincial newspaper tells a story of the irony of fate. The hero was a notary's clerk, named Lemerrier, who had a remarkable series of reverses of fortune.

He seems to have been a hoodoo, for something was bound to go wrong with every firm he joined in the capacity of clerk or cashier. Always ill paid and wretchedly unhappy, the youth was in turn a gardener, a porter, a carter and anything else that enabled him to buy bread, till after 15 years of a hand-to-mouth struggle he returned to his native village of Breval, near Mantes, and was taken in by a charitable person. In vain he sought for work, and he contracted some unavoidable small debts.

The other morning an imperative knocking at the door announced the emissaries of the law. The wretched Lemerrier barricaded himself in and then hanged himself. When a locksmith had broken open the door Lemerrier was dead. The intruder had not come to arrest him, but to announce that a distant relative had left him a legacy of $5,000.

An Eminent Physician States That Mucosolvent is the Only Known Cure For All Forms of Catarrh.

When Mucosolvent was discovered Dr. William C. Boteler, of the Northwestern University of Kansas, and editor of the North American Medical Review, expressed himself emphatically about the wonderful curative and germicidal properties of Mucosolvent, unquestionably the greatest discovery of this age.

Catarrh is caused by the presence of deadly microbes in the mucous membranes. Very often ordinary catarrh of the head, causing the victim, as it does, to continually hawk and spit, communicates itself to the bronchial passages and finally the stomach. The entire stomach becomes diseased; then as a rule follows an almost complete breakdown, dyspepsia, heartburn-pains after eating. The liver and kidneys become deranged, and the circulation becoming affected, the heart grows weak. Nine persons in ten suffer from some form of catarrh, from the mild in character, to the malignant type. Mucosolvent kills every germ, microbe, or bacteria deadly to the human system that makes an especial attack against the mucous membranes. Get the catarrhal poison out of your system, give your stomach a chance and nature will soon assert sway. You will be cured of your dyspepsia, of your weak heart, will rid yourself of the foul, offensive breath, and be able to hold conversation with your fellow man without noting the look of ill concealed disgust on his face, caused by your putrid and offensive breath. The feeling of lassitude, indisposition to work, headaches, heartburn, dyspepsia, etc., are nine times in ten caused by catarrhal condition. In this condition you and your family become an easy prey to Grippe, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, etc. Once knowing the wonderful properties of Mucosolvent, we consider it a crime for any person possessed of this information to be without it at all times. It is as necessary to the household as soap and water. Ask the druggists, they will give you the names of prominent people whose lives have been saved by the timely use of Mucosolvent. It has cured them—it will cure you, besides giving your family immunity from the Grip, Colds, Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Whooping Cough, etc. This is a tremendously strong statement, but every word of it is true. RESORTS RUN WIDE OPEN where liquors were served to all comers.

At Wipke's were men, women and children, many in the unruly stage of intoxication. Girls of 13 and 14 years danced with men much their seniors, and drank between dances. Back of the pavilion is a hotel, where rooms are rented and where drinks are served.

Eldorado Park, at the south end of the lake, is a new resort, without music or dancing, and it was not so popular as Wipke's, but a score were there Sunday night drinking whisky from flasks and beer from steins. When Eldorado was first opened beer was served as "tea" and the waiters whispered about it, but Sunday it was "wide open."

Scores of waiters were busy at the big pavilion on the hill, near the loop of the car line. This is surrounded by large verandas, sprinkled with chairs, but has no dancing space. There, as elsewhere drinks were served without concealment. Girls in short dresses sat at the tables and drank. When they became ill they were taken within, sometimes by their escorts, sometimes by older girls.

At the foot of the hill, near the exit to the scenic railway, another bar and pavilion did rich business, selling to girls, women and men. At all the bars steins were sold for 10 cents, bottled beer at 15 cents and all whiskies at 15 cents a drink.

Another pavilion, where negroes played dance music, is located east of Eldorado park on the lake shore, and conditions there were as shocking as at the other resorts.

At Bellair's grove, just east of the lake, the crowd did not depart until after 1 a. m. There were more girls 14 and 15 years old there than elsewhere. Some of them were in the last stages of intoxication and reclined in the arms of their escorts. A drum and piano furnished the music.

From one of the launches crossing the lake at midnight, laden with drunken passengers, a cry arose, "Who's our man for governor?"

"Stapel," yelled many in the crowd, one tawny-haired woman removing a flask from her lips and spilling whisky over her waist in her eagerness to answer.

"What's the matter with Joe Folk?"

"He's a crank," some yelled, and others applied stronger epithets.

"What's the matter with Stapel?"

"He's all right."

This launch bore thirty-eight men, women and girls, and less than ten of them were able to walk straight when they left it.

"Chance"—and St. Anthony.

Who knows what is chance? A golfer told me lately that he was playing in Spain with a young Catholic student of divinity, who hit his ball into a forest of thistles. He sought for it sorrowfully, for golf balls are expensive in Spain. At last the player bethought him of St. Anthony of Padua, that great finder of things lost. On his watch chain the young man wore a bronze cross dedicated to St. Anthony, or mixed up with him somehow. Detaching the cross he threw it high into the jungle of thistles; while my friend marked where it fell, went up to it, and found the lost ball lying within a few inches of the bronze cross.

Ugliness.

It is no paradox to say that there flourishes just now a cult of ugliness. It is not confined to literature, for witness a vast deal of the fashionable portrait painting, from some even of Mr. Sargent's presentments downward. We cannot afford to let the evil grow without protest. Fidelity to beauty is what makes art powerful for good; and ugliness, conversely, is the first stage in that broad road of shamelessness in taste and ends in immorality in conduct.

Love and Money.

"After all, the sum of human happiness may be totaled up in three words," said she.

"What on earth are they?" inquired her partner in life's joys and sorrows.

"I love you."

"O, I thought you meant 'Pay to be sure.'"

MANDRIL THAT IS A WONDER

With Hagenbeck-Wallace Show Which Appears in Sedalia August 7.

The Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace Shows exhibit the only great blue-faced, rib-nosed baboon in captivity. He is a giant in size, and is possessed of the strength of a hundred men. Decked with rare tints, with gorgeous colors and with indescribable hues, he grins at the startled thousands, a degenerate man or a redeemed brute—which is he? Scientists have not answered the question. He has passed through Hagenbeck's school for animals and has thrown aside many antics and notions of the brute creation, and taken on many idiosyncrasies of finite man. He is at once a wonder and a mystery, and his queer grimaces and wise expressions provoke smiles and serious reflections from the simple minded and the philosophical. To see this rare freak of nature is never to forget it.

The Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace shows combined, according to the general verdict the greatest circus alliance the world has ever known, will be here Friday, August 7.

PAINT COST SAVED

HUGHES CRESCENT COTTAGE PAINT

The best paints are always the cheapest—a great deal of the cheapest. One paint, costing but a mere trifle more than another will often last twice as long. HUGHES CRESCENT COTTAGE PAINT is the long lasting kind. There is no kind that lasts longer, while the cost is no greater than most paints with inferior wearing qualities. CRESCENT COTTAGE PAINT should have a little oil added to it, and this reduces its cost to less than that of lead and oil, while, owing to the scientific combination of lead and zinc it contains, it outwears lead every time. If you are thinking of buying any paint soon come in and let us tell you more about it.

NAN PATTERSON ORDERED OUT

Pittsburg Police Force the Former Chorus Girl to Leave City.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 28.—Fearing that she was to be sent back to New York, Nan Patterson, the chorus girl who was tried three times for the murder of Caesar Young several years ago, and who has been making this city her home since that time, left here late Saturday afternoon for parts unknown, following a conference with the police authorities.

In speaking of the matter yesterday, Acting Captain of Detectives Roche said:

"When Nan Patterson was brought in before me she thought that she was to be sent back to New York, as she is only out on probation there. She was very retired and quiet and when I told her she would have to go she agreed to do so. The wife of a prominent man called up on the telephone, stating that Nan Patterson had enticed her husband and Nan admitted this, promising to leave the city at once."

PSYCHOLOGY OF THE OYSTER.

James Russell Lowell Has Prepared to Add a Few "Facts."

One of the most profound remarks ever made by that profound philosopher, Thackeray, was when he passed two tubs of oysters side by side and he saw one was labeled "Is a dozen" and the other "Is 3d a dozen." He exclaimed: "How those oysters must hate each other."

Well, "even an oyster may be crossed in love," and William Dean Howells has another tale to tell about the psychology of the oyster. At one of the little suppers that the poet Longfellow gave to the brilliant Cambridge critic James Russell Lowell paused above his plate of oysters to say whimsically: "It's astonishing how these fellows love pepper."

"Dear me! You don't say so!" ejaculated a nice, prosy old gentleman who used to sleep through the suppers. The temptation was too strong to be resisted, and Lowell was fairly launched into an account of how a red pepper, accidentally dropped into a basket of oysters, had been drawn out with half a dozen of the bivalves clinging to it, when the ever gentle Longfellow interposed to save his matter-of-fact old friend.—Woman's Home Companion.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

GEORGE J. GOULD RETURNED TO DAY FROM A TWO MONTHS' TRIP TO EUROPE.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

A New York dispatch of the 27th to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:

George J. Gould, who went abroad early in June, after four of his railroad properties had been placed in the hands of receivers, will arrive here tomorrow.

It was learned today that one of the first matters to engage his attention would be the consideration of overtures that have been made to him by E. H. Harriman and the banking interests identified with the latter for representation in his railroads, especially in the Missouri Pacific, Western Pacific and Wabash systems.

One of the last persons with whom Mr. Gould conferred before sailing was Mr. Harriman. It is known that at that time a clear understanding was reached between them regarding the Western Pacific and the attitude that the Southern Pacific would assume toward it when a new line, in 1909, commenced to bid for traffic.

Since then there has been a steady accumulation by Harriman interests of Missouri Pacific stock, on which no dividends are now paid.

Mr. Harriman, it may be said, believes that he, better than any other railroad man, can introduce into the Missouri Pacific system the life and methods that are necessary to make that property stand up alongside other roads with which it is now competing.

It is a fair assumption that some important changes will be made this year in the personnel of the boards of directors of several of the Gould lines.

"Katy" Check for 5 Cents.

A Katy pay check for the sum of five cents is on exhibition in the show window of Moore's jewelry store on West Main street, says the Denison Herald of Monday.

The check is No. 4509, dated July 29, and is made out to O. Goldsmith. The check is creating a great deal of attention from the fact that it is perhaps the smallest ever issued by the Katy in Denison.

The owner of the paper is a ranchman in the local shops and it represents the pay due him for a half day's work after hospital and Y. M. C. A. dues had been deducted. Mr. Goldsmith says that he will keep the check as a souvenir.

Arrivals at the Hospital.

B. Hollingsworth, an M. K. & T. man from Greenville, Texas, and John Burke, a section foreman from Okla., are new patients at the company hospital. The former is suffering from a contusion of both legs and back, while the latter is bedfast with an injured back.

Edward Maddox, a clerk in the Missouri Pacific offices, was registered at the Katy hospital yesterday as a victim of erysipelas.

Today 110 patients are registered at the Katy hospital.

75 Mechanics Went to Work.

Fully seventy-five mechanics, covering various departments, went to work at the new Missouri Pacific shops this morning, following an order issued by Master Mechanic M. J. McGraw that the shops would be partially reopened today.

Owing to the fact that many mechanics have left the city, the full force of 108 men did not go to work, but notices have been given to the required number, and by the latter part of this week all will be employed.

Injured His One Good Eye.

Warren Stevens, an M. K. & T. carpenter, whose relatives live six miles south of Sedalia, sustained painful and perhaps serious injury to his left eye yesterday by being struck in the optic by a piece of belt.

He was treated at the company hospital, and today it was thought he would not lose the sight of the eye. Mr. Stevens' right eye is artificial, and yesterday's accident is considered the more alarming on that account.

On Tour of Inspection.

A. A. Allen, vice president and general manager of the M. K. & T.; A. D. Bethard, assistant general manager; E. M. Alvord, general superintendent; N. J. Finney, superintendent, and A. Frakes, roadmaster for this district, in a special train, arrived here from Hannibal at 10:30 o'clock this morning on a tour of inspection. Tom Russell is in charge of the Hard Time Getting Started.

Missouri Pacific train No. 2, pulled by engine No. 5519, in charge of Engineer Al Taylor, was delayed eight minutes in pulling out of Sedalia at noon today, Engineer Taylor having been unable to get a start with nine cars attached to the locomotive.

An inquisitive spectator at the depot earnestly inquired which direction the train was going, after Engineer Taylor had reversed the train until the engine passed the baggage room.

Slept on the Lawn.

The Missouri Pacific's lawn surrounding the station in this city was utilized to good advantage by members of the "live easy" class today. Five "tourists," without a care in the world, were peacefully slumbering in the grass on arrival of train No. 2 at noon, but when the rain came they were suddenly aroused and disappeared.

Can Ride on Freight Trains.

An official order was issued at the local offices of the Missouri Pacific today, requesting freight conductors to allow G. Long, a representative of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, to ride on company freight trains.

Mr. Long is en route from Pittsburg, Pa., to Lawns, Nev., with nine cars of machinery.

Superintendent Shoveled Coal.

Supt. J. M. Kurn, of the New Mexico division of the Santa Fe railroad, shoveled coal while the train raged forty miles to save a fine for delaying the United States mails.

The fireman had been struck by a water crane and was unconscious. There was nobody to take his place, so Kurn volunteered. The train reached its destination on time.

Too Long for Meals.

"Too much time for eating purposes at Nevada," is the substance of the latest bulletin issued by Supt. N. J. Finney, of the Katy, today.

As previously requested, trainmen are cautioned to consume no more than fifteen minutes for eating their meals at that point.

Vacancy for a Brakeman.

A vacancy for one brakeman on a Missouri Pacific preferred run, in charge of Conductor R. H. Beard, in place of Brakeman Doolittle, exists, and application for the place must be on file not later than Emancipation day, August 4.

A Katy Bulletin.

An official bulletin was issued by the Katy today prohibiting the ex-

MANY DELEGATES ARE HERE

To Attend the Convention of Negro Knights of Pythias.

Three hundred and forty delegates were in attendance when Grand Chancellor A. W. Lloyd, of St. Louis, rapped for order at 10 o'clock this morning at the annual convention of the colored Knights of Pythias, in session at the criminal court room at the court house.

The appointment of a committee on credentials, also a committee on organization, was the opening order of business, after which adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when reports of the committees were heard.

Mrs. Theresa M. Johnson, of St. Louis, grand worthy counselor, called the meeting of the ladies' auxiliary to order at the same hour at the circuit court room at the court house. Two hundred and seventy delegates are in attendance.

A similar order of business took up the convention's time and afterwards adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock, when reports of committees were heard.

The conventions were hearing reports of the committees at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, when the Democrat-Sentinel went to press.

Will Return to Sedalia.

Children Had an Outing.

The St. Louis Star and Chronicle of July 21 prints an excellent picture of Miss Neoma O'Brien, of that city, and who has many friends in Sedalia. Miss O'Brien personally represented August A. Busch in the two weeks' outing camp recently given hundreds of children of St. Louis, and to this lady's untiring efforts was partially due the wonderful success of this undertaking.

PROHIBITION LOST IN TEXAS

Campbell Is Nominated for Governor by 60,000 Over Williams.

Dallas, Texas, July 28.—Incomplete returns from the democratic state primary election held Saturday indicate a victory for Governor Campbell by 60,000.

The prohibition submission amendment appears to have been defeated on the face of the returns.

DIES IN A DENTIST CHAIR

Brother Is About to Extract a Tooth When She Expires.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 28.—Mrs. John Daly died in a dentist's chair in the office of her brother, Dr. E. F. Stapleton, just after having been given chloroform to ease pain attending the removal of an ulcerated tooth.

Penalizing the Motorist.

The proposal to increase the taxation of motor cars is due alike to a desire to penalize motorists in general for the offenses committed by a minority of them, and to a wish to augment the national resources. The first desire is not fair in itself, and the second will not realize its purpose commensurately with the annoyance it will cause.—Law Times.
